-We learn that a series of protracted meetings will begin at the Baptist church to-night to continue through next week.

-We call attention to the advertisement of A. M. Riser, of Columbia, and hope those visiting the festival of the Schutzen Verein will visit the rooms of Mr. Riser.

-The post office will not be open to-night. During court week, the office will be open every night for the delivery of the Columbia mail.

-We learn that Mr. F. M. Kimmey, of Charleston, was married Tuesday last, to Miss Ellen Betsel, of this place, Rev. Geo. A. Hough officiated.

-- Among the hotel arrivals in Charleston on Oct. 4th, we see the names of M. I. Browning, D. Louis and J. L. Livingston of Orangeburg.

-We learn that the S. C. R. R has just paid County Treasurer Levingston $3,000 taxes that have been accruing for several years back. Many will be interested to learn that there is money in the treasury.

-S. R. Mellichamp's school is now in a very prospering condition. Thirty are in attendance; and a more advanced class of pupils must make the routine of school duties less irk some to this popular teacher.

-A much needed and ornamental ticket office is being erected at the entrance of the Fair grounds. It is a great improvement on the old box, which, by its appearance, never allowed many into the inside,

A dastardly attemt was made on Friday night to throw the passenger train that left this city at 4 o'clock p. m. for Charleston off the track, when about five miles this side of Branchville. The train was going at the usual rate of speed, when the engineer discovered, by the light from the engine, a cross-tie placed across the It is gratifying to note the good faith

-The work on the new court house has begun in earnest. About three hundred thousand brick have been ordered from Augusta, a large number of which have already arrived. We hope for the convenience of the public the fence about the square will be taken down and removed to some place where it can be kept in good order for future use.
